Dear Parents/Guardians,

Congratulations to the Kampala Quality Family upon successfully ending the academic year 2023. Throughout the year, you have certainly made the most of all opportunities offered across the depth of our curriculum.

I would like to take the time to acknowledge all our learners who have successfully participated in the teaching and learning and extra-curricular activities that have been offered.

Our learners have been committed to the school values and made the best of every learning opportunity offered. Everyday, we observe the steps they take to fulfil a high level of discipline, their ambitions to reach personal goals and take course of the values we uphold as a school.

Appreciation goes out to you, the P.7 parents for not tiring in your endeavours to ensure that our candidates had a flawless and disruption free year. We believe they did their best and we expect them to perform well.

OBITUARY

My deepest sympathy goes out to you all that have lost your dear ones. I am deeply sorry to announce the death of one of our alumni, Muwanga Nabil, P.7 class of 2015, who had just joined the university and passed away in an accident on 27th November 2023. May his soul rest in peace.

My first time as a Headboy

MY FIRST TIME AS A HEADBOY

KQPS has always respected our rights to leadership. As a culture, elections of prefects are held. I took the biggest risk of my life to contest for one of the highest and prolific posts in the school, the Headboyship. I was super excited and thankful to have won this. Not only did I become popular and maintained discipline but also improved on my confidence and academic performance in general. What a wonderful Culture at Kampala Quality Primary School to enjoy!

Indoor Games

INDOOR GAMES

Early this year, new games like chess and scrabble were introduced in school. This has minimized noise in the school especially during time for going back home. As if that is not enough, scrabble has helped students improve on spellings since it involves formation of words on the scrabble board. Chess has also helped students to think critically. The most interesting part is that even our teachers like Mr. Robert Byamukama and Mr. Kello Emmanuel have always played with us.

School Trips

TRIPS

Trips, Trips, Trips! What a year of outdoor and adventurous studies this has been for starters, we were off to the Jinja Community from where we managed to see production of pastries, mattresses, clothes and so many more. This made me appreciate and respect everyone in the work force to ensure availability of many needs in our country. Like that wasn't enough, we also took a trip to Katanyoro Farm. This vast farm structure is home to cattle, goats, sheep, bees, fish and also plantations. This was my first science trip. I learnt so much that day. Such practical lessons have enabled us improve on our academic grades and experience. Thank you KQPS for being inclusive.

Spelling Bee

SPELLING BEE COMPETITIONS

It was a Friday when our school held Spelling Bee. There were judges that came from 'Tamu Toto'. They first gave us instructions and guidelines on how to spell. After giving us instructions, they called representatives from each stream.

The judges spoke fluent English. After conducting the spelling exercise, we had a break in which we could find new words.

What an exciting and marvellous exercise it was! I look forward to having another spelling bee. I encourage my fellow pupils to use a dictionary for more practice.

SPELLING BEE INTER-STREAM COMPETITION

This was an arrangement by the school courtesy of Tamu Toto. It is intended to promote better reading, spellings, improve grammar and word diction as well as instill confidence and public speaking among the children.
